

A 140-foot-long barn located near the northwest quarter of the Stony Point site. The barn has vertical board-and-batten siding with a corrugated sheet metal roof and doors. Associated with the barn is rail fencing that forms a corral and loading chute, poured concrete water troughs and a feed box for cattle.